AWAY FROM THE OFFICE

Nicole and her husband Billy have two children. She enjoys an active lifestyle, as well as spending time with her family and friends, watching football and traveling. Nicole serves on the Maricopa County board of directors of Girls on the Run, a non-profit organization that educates and prepares pre-teen girls for a lifetime of self respect and healthy living. She is also involved with Off the Field (an organization for wives of active and retired National Football League players that works to promote and strengthen the family) and the International Book Project.
